Thursday, August 1, 2019

8:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

OEA Headquarters, Columbus, Ohio

You must be able to attend all sixteen training hours to be accepted to this Professional Learning Seminar.

During this sixteen-hour, IIRP Certified Training you will:

Build relationships, respond to conflict and collaborative problem-solving using a restorative framework.

Learn to set high expectations for students and colleagues while being supportive.

Practice providing direct feedback and asking questions that promote accountability.

Discover the most effective methods to resolve common conflicts.

Learn to facilitate restorative circles.

Learn to build social capital, resolve social problems and respond when harm occurs by developing a restorative lens.

Discover how circles create positive learning environments.

Participate in circles with your colleagues, taking turns to learn how to facilitate.

Be prepared to return to your school and run your first circle!

This Professional Learning Seminar is open to twenty-five OEA members. If you are accepted, OEA will cover all resource materials, the cost of the training, hotel costs for one night, and breakfast, lunch, and snacks for all training days. Dinner will be on your own.
